Dozens of you have sent me @michaeljknowles Fauci pledge. Well here you go. We deserve to know what Fauci knew, and when. That guy is a CREEP!

The Michael Knowles Federal

Public Health Protection Pledge

I, Blake Masters, pledge to the taxpayers of the State or Commonwealth of Arizona and to the American people that I will:

1) Vote to subpoena Dr. Anthony Fauci in order to investigate any corrupt activities to which he may be party regarding the COVID-19 pandemic as well as the numerous and demonstrable lies that he has told to the United States Congress and the American people regarding the virus, its origin, and the efficacy of public health measures to fight it.

2. Sponsor and vote for legislation that reduces the salary of the Director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) and Chief Medical Advisor to the President of the United States, Dr. Anthony Fauci, to $0.00.

Nice! @bgmasters understands where the political fight is today.

Unfortunately, there are still a number of candidates and sitting members who refuse to take this simple pledge.

Let's send a clear message: if a candidate won't take on Fauci, that candidate won't get our vote!

Big Tech companies shouldn't be allowed to silence political opponents. They shouldn't be allowed to work with the CCP. And they shouldn't be allowed to manipulate information to change election outcomes.

It's Mostly False because it's completely true.

In early 2022, the Biden administration endeavored to advance racial equity by distributing crack pipes to drug users.

Rating

Mostly False

About this rating

What's True

In 2022, a U.S. Department of Health and Human Services substance abuse harm reduction grant did require recipients to provide safer smoking kits to existing drug users. In distributing grants, priority would be given to applicants serving historically underserved communities. However

What's False

This was just one of around 20 components of the grant program and far from its most prominent or important one, despite being the primary focus of outraged news reports. The purpose of the program was to reduce harm and the risk of infection among drug users, not to advance racial equity, although that was a secondary consideration

If you want to study nutrition dishonestly, send out food surveys. You'll find exactly what you want.

An honest way to study nutrition would be getting a job as a cashier and observing. Or better: self experimentation.

Big Tech companies shouldn't be allowed to silence political opponents. They shouldn't be allowed to work with the CCP. And they shouldn't be allowed to manipulate information to change election outcomes.

I've been working for Little Caesars since 1998 and always said one day I would own one. It took longer than I had planned but today I can officially say I own a franchise Little Caesars location! I'm so excited for what this is going to do for my family and what we'll be able to do for the families working with us

We've got him talking about insider trading and cutting taxes — the Mark Kelly team is scrambling.

Pretty soon he'll be pretending to be anti-mandate, pro-2A, and pro-border security. But it's so fake, voters see right through it, so I'm taking his job in November.

> Senator Mark Kelly ✓ @SenMarkKelly

Ever since I taught my boys about Operation Vengeance, the U.S. mission to shoot down Japanese Admiral Yamamoto in WWII, they have admired Rex Barber, one of our P-38 pilots who got it done. Graham likes to dress up as Barber 😂❤️

6 AZ officers have been gunned down since Wed. One was from the Yavapai Apache Police Department. 5 more were from the Phoenix Police Dept.
The photo below was from overnight as 2 helped 1 of their own escape the dangerous scene. Our prayers are with them all. This is senseless.

data on the safety of schools and the harms caused by virtual learning. While they didn't try to muzzle me outright, I was told repeatedly to "think about what I was saying."

Meantime, colleagues posted nonstop about the need to oust Trump in the November election. I also shared my support for Elizabeth Warren in the Democratic primary and my great sadness about the racially instigated murders of Ahmaud Arbery and George Floyd. No one at the company objected to any of that.

Then in October 2020, when it was clear public schools were not going to open that fall, Inclusion at the company asked that I do an "apology tour." I was told that the main complaint against me was that "I was not a friend of the Black community at Levi's." I was told to say that "I am an imperfect ally." I refused.

The fact that I had been asked, back in 2017, to be the executive sponsor of the Black Employee Resource Group by two black employees did not matter. The fact that I've fought for kids for years didn't matter. That I was just citing facts didn't matter. The head of HR told me personally that even though I was right about the schools, that it was classist and racist that I think @antoniogm made this point on a podcast. Conservatives long to return to the fifties, while liberals miss the sixties. But no one in politics is thinking about the future, which, definitionally, is the only time period that doesn't lay the groundwork for today's problems.

So let me get this straight a BLM activist tried to kill a Jewish candidate for mayor of Louisville — literally shot at him with a gun — & his bail, which was only $100k, was paid by crowdfunding. But Canadian truckers aren't allowed to use crowd funding for their protest?

Blake Masters is Against Lowering Gas Prices For Arizonans...Do His #AZSen Primary Opponents Agree?

PHOENIX - Earlier this week, Silicon Valley sweetheart turned GOP Senate candidate Blake Masters came out in strong opposition to a new piece of legislation introduced by Senator Mark Kelly that will lower the price at the pump by suspending the federal gas tax and passing savings on to Arizonans, not oil and gas companies.

Masters, who is backed by billionaire benefactor Peter Thiel and his $10 million Super PAC pledge, scoffed at the idea of saving struggling Arizonans 18 cents per gallon at the pump. So far, his opponents Jim Lamon, who has been busy using his $50 million in personal wealth to buy up endorsements, and Mark Brnovich, who spent last week pursuing an overtly political lawsuit that will likely get laughed out of court, have been silent on the proposal.

"This legislation would lower everyday costs for Arizonans by driving down the price of gas... and out of touch Silicon Valley elitist Blake Masters either doesn't understand what that means for hardworking Arizonans, or he doesn't care. Blake Masters' opposition is out of touch with Arizonans, but that's really no surprise since he's spent over a decade working in California. But one question remains. Do Jim Lamon and Mark Brnovich agree?" said ADP spokesperson Hannah Goss.

1/ There are no other constitutional rights in substance without freedom to transact

2/ I assume we are in agreement that constitutional democracies are a good form of government or, at least, a better form of government than the other methods we have found to date

This means that I am taking for granted the following assumptions:

49 · 206 · 1,569

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
3/
People have fundamental rights to speech, assembly, religion and so on
People are innocent until proven guilty
The state cannot punish people without due process, which generally means that, in a court of law, the state has to prove you have broken some specific law

37 · 453 · 4,594

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
4/ If you disagree with the principles above, I guess that is fine (but weird) but probably you can safely exit this thread now because it is unlikely that we are going to agree on anything else

16 · 163 · 1,840

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
5/ People who know me IRL (offchain?) know that I have been harassing them for years that

"Without the freedom to transact, you have no other constitutional rights"

And mostly they look at me strangely and I look at them strangely because it seems obvious to me

26 · 413 · 4,120

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
6/ Freedom of speech might require such activities like
- A website
- A pamphlet
- An advertisement
- Paying a graphic designer
- Travelling to a different location

All of which "cost money"

14 · 221 · 1,762

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
7/ Freedom of assembly might require such activities like
- Taking a train to Washington DC
- Booking a hotel room
- Hiring a taxi
- Buying a hot dog with mustard while you assemble

All of which "cost money"

12 · 206 · 1,598

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
8/ Freedom of religion might require such activities like
- Renting a space for a facility
- Paying the salaries of religious officials
- Buying food and consumables

All of which "cost money"

I can go on, but I think the point is clear. The exercise of rights costs money

18 · 234 · 1,895

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
9/ Historically, the risk of financial censorship has been much lower because for the literally whole of human history until approximately 2001, it was mostly uncontroversial that people could have decentralized non custodial mediums of exchange

10 · 145 · 1,494

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
10/ For hundreds of thousands of years humans used commodity money (from cowry shells to gold) and then in the last few hundred years we have had various forms of cash based instruments as well

All of these are "non custodial" "decentralized" and not "KYCed"

20 · 193 · 1,272

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
11/ Over the last 20 years, the institutional environment has shifted to a posture that non custodial money is default suspicious

- Central banks who want the "death of cash"
- Patriot Act and derivatives thereof
- Geopolitical pressure points via the banking system

9 · 254 · 3,542

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
12/ "But 6529 the goal is preventing money laundering, stopping terrorism and reducing tax evasion"

I agree that these are a) the stated goals and b) an actual subset of the actual goals

I am also against money laundering, terrorism and tax evasion

23 · 198 · 3,016

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
13/ The problem however is that there is both short term and long term goal creep

In the United States (and EU) banks and payment processors have been pressured to cut off accounts to gun shops, adult businesses, crypto businesses and other perfectly legal businesses

19 · 196 · 3,462

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
14/ I consider this to be undemocratic. If a country would like to make pornography or guns or cryptocurrency illegal, it has every right to pass laws to do so

And then the citizens can re-elect or de-elect the politicians who voted for it and/or challenge it in court

16 · 170 · 1,509

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
15/ What happens instead is hidden "deep bureaucracy" type bullshit where the banks point to their regulators and say "well, they told us to close high risk accounts" and the regulators point to the banks and say "we never said that just, you know, be careful"

12 · 299 · 3,916

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
16/ And the net effect is that you don't have an bank account any more and there is no recourse, no due process, not even an actual law that says "you should not have an account"

It is "deep bureaucracy" running a parallel opaque unwritten legal system

Deeply undemocratic

27 · 487 · 5,215

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
16/ Even in the current system, being unbanked and having to rely on cash is more or less ejecting you from the modern economy

Paying bills, getting a paycheck, paying vendors, investing in 401K, buying crypto even all require access to traditional payment rails

10 · 181 · 3,154

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
17/ But guess what? It is getting worse. Many central banks have stated goals for their CBDCs to

- Eliminate cash
- Allow global transaction censorship
- Apply deeply negative interest rates

15 · 409 · 3,380

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
18/ A system of this kind would be the most powerful system of centralized control the world has ever known

Even Stalin, Hitler, Mao did not have the ability to apply global transaction censorship across their empires at the touch of a button

24 · 435 · 4,096

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
19/ What will happen is some aspiring dictator will censor their opponents spending during a election period and they won't be able to buy a tomato, let alone run a campaign

With such power & no due process, it's a certainty. Power hungry people tend to run for office

17 · 433 · 3,935

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
20/ Notice that the third goal is mission creep

Nobody started this process in 2001 saying "the goal is to be able to apply negative interest rates to your savings" and yet here we are Below a certain negative rate, people will withdraw their money. So let's prevent them.

6 · 172 · 2,897

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
21/ The way this process has been working is that we are the frog and we are being boiled slowly

Every year, the reporting requirements get a little broader, the penalties steeper, the restrictions on cash withdrawals more severe

8 · 263 · 3,292

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
22/ And most of all the presumption of innocence is turning into a presumption of guilt

"why do you want to withdraw $5K in cash"
"if you have nothing to hide, why do you need non-custodial instruments"
"non custodial is dangerous"

14 · 294 · 3,734

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
23/ I remind you that literally for the whole of human history "non custodial" was the main form of the mediums of exchange

It is a very recent concept that this is a bad thing. It is effectively a quiet power grab by the state

9 · 326 · 3,887

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
24/ This is why one of the reasons that crypto has been generally disliked by central banks in particular

Here they are, closing in on the 'end of cash' and now a new form of digital cash emerges and, in their view, they need to reel that in too for the rest to work

8 · 159 · 3,030

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
25/ So back to constitutional rights

- You have constitutional rights
- You need money to exercise them
- The state acquires the power to cut off funding

What might happen next?

27/ Prime Minister Trudeau has a political problem

The specific political problem is some truck drivers have blocked part of Canadian cities and highways to protest his COVID-19 policies

This is a) annoying him b) annoying his voters and c) probably bad for the economy

18 · 140 · 2,636

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
28/ I don't actually have a view on the substance of the trucker protests and if Canada's COVID policies are good, bad or neutral

I would further guess that the truckers are probably violating a variety of Canadian laws relating to how they can protest

19 · 99 · 2,077

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
29/ What would be a normal constitutional democracy political response to a problem like this is either

a) let it play out if you think it is in good faith or
b) encourage the local authorities to arrest them and try them in a court if you think it is not

15 · 131 · 2,405

6529 @punk6529 · Feb 17
30/ Either is fine

The right to assembly in Canada probably does not allow you to block the highway for days for everyone else

I assume Canada still has police and courts so they could presumably arrest the highway blockers & take them to court

49/ It is critically important that we don't sleepwalk into an economic, digital and metaverse architecture that is completely centralized.

Whether it is on the corporate or state systems, it will eventually end up under state control because states control the exercise of power

50/ "but what about criminals 6529?"

Do you think I do not worry about criminals? I worry about criminals more than you do.

Unlike you, I think criminals are smart and can read and plan. Wait, what do you mean?

51/ If you centralize the greatest honeypot of power and money in history in the hands of a handful of companies and the state, the really smart criminals won't be running around robbing banks, they will aim for corporate or political leadership

    1. The Second Amendment is an absolute right. Tyrannical regimes always begin by disarming the people. Remember: without gun rights, before long, you have no rights.

2. There are currently many existing infringements. Which specific existing Second Amendment infringements will you legislate to repeal?

    2. The FBI and ATF are illegally storing records of gun purchases, that is unconstitutional and needs to stop. The National Firearms Act (or most of it anyways) is unconstitutional and should be repealed. And the ATF exercises

Just in time for Tuesday's state of the union, Congress no longer has a mask requirement. It's amazing how "the science" has such impeccable political timing.

The situation in Ukraine is dangerous. It's hard to tell what's going on beyond that, because we don't have a real media, neither does Ukraine, and neither does Russia — it's propaganda and emotionalism all the way down. Do your own thinking. Here's some of mine.

How was this possible? Why was Putin tempted to think that violence would work? The answer is in two big blind spots of Western leaders: (1) Energy and (2) Power

(1) Energy: We traded energy independence for climate change activism. Europe especially let itself become dependent on Russia for oil and gas. Germany even closed its nuclear power plants. This gave Putin leverage.

(2) Power: European countries have been slacking, relying on America, spending next to nothing on their own militaries. Trump was right to call them out. You have to build up hard power, or Russia will see you as a free lunch.

This invasion is an atrocity and Putin is a thug. Ukrainian resistance is noble. But geography is real. Ukraine is crucial to Russian security, not to ours. We will be living with Russia for decades and centuries. Unless we fail at today's task and blow up the whole world

Obviously we should not go to war with Russia. The new liberal Doctor Strangeloves, the commentators and Adam Kinzingers of the world calling for no-fly zones or even bombing campaigns, are insane. These people have never learned a single lesson & they'd get us all killed

Meanwhile John Kerry-esque sentimentality around "climate change" and the "rules based international order" simply doesn't work. Preening rhetoric laid on thick over Europe's provocative powerlessness in energy and defense is exactly how we got here.

What to do? We should supply the Ukrainians as they fight for their country. We should support the Europeans as they get up off their knees. We should sanction Russia so that Putin and his cronies feel the consequences. And we should keep our own military out of this.

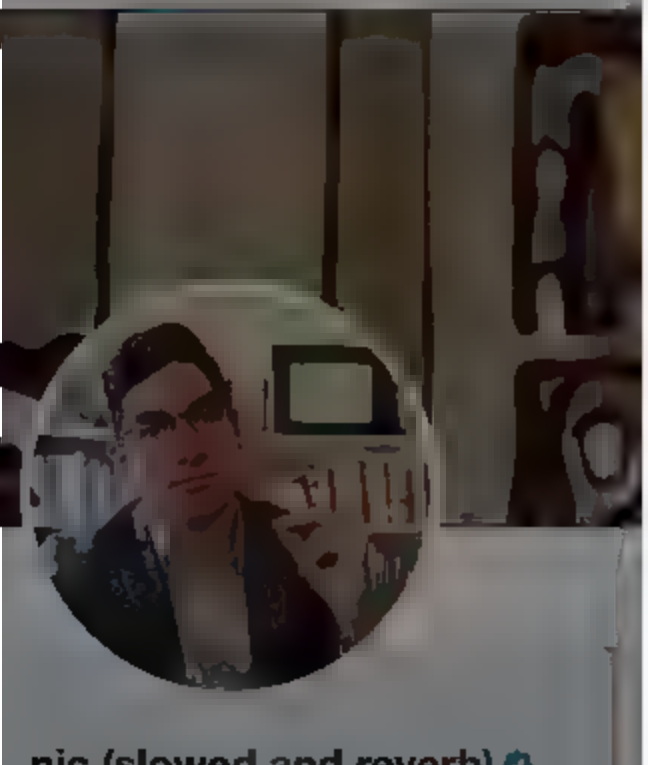
Why did the West fail to deter Russia from invading Ukraine?

Because we were lost in soft, renewable energy delusions while Putin was grounded in the hard physical reality of nuclear, oil, & natural gas



Ukrainians are paying for our wishful thinking

This garbage lawsuit (from the worst AG in America) was rejected today — the court just ruled that New York can't dissolve the NRA.

Free people need weapons to remain free. The left knows that, which is why they want to destroy the NRA.

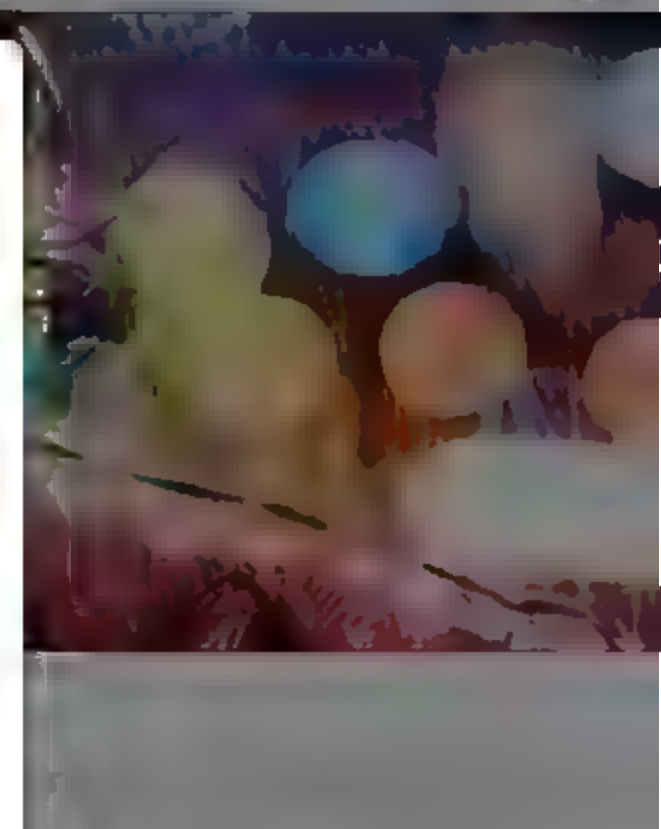
Shit is so fake that the minute an outsider took office we got cheap gas, cheap food, became energy independent, no wars and focused on our country's own issues.



Establishment hacks get back in and we have inflation, medical tyranny, world war 3, need to take a mortgage for gas.

HB 2839 (eliminating precinct committeemen elections) is huge disaster for the Arizona grassroots. It passed unanimously, and most Republicans are saying the bad language was snuck in last minute. Needs fixing now. And one more reason why we need @azaustinsmith in there.

Is Big Tech censorship, like the de-platforming of the 45th president of the United States, an existential threat to the future of this country?

Yes.

Do any of the other #AZSen candidates recognize the urgency of this?

No.

The @nytimes confirms: Hunter Biden's laptop was real.

So, did Hunter's Dad get kickbacks on Chinese and Ukrainian deals, as emails on that laptop suggest? Big Tech said it was "disinformation" to ask the question. They lied. And they lied for one reason: to steal an election.

That's right. It's impossible to imagine Mark Kelly exercising independent judgment. He doesn't care that she goes light on child pornographers. He doesn't care how expansively she "interprets" the Constitution. Kelly is a rubber stamp.

Brnovich wanted Trump to lose. While votes were still being counted (11-11-20), he gleefully predicted on Fox News that Biden would win AZ. He then certified election for Biden.

Now it comes out that Brno wanted to prosecute pro-Trump electors. Shameful.

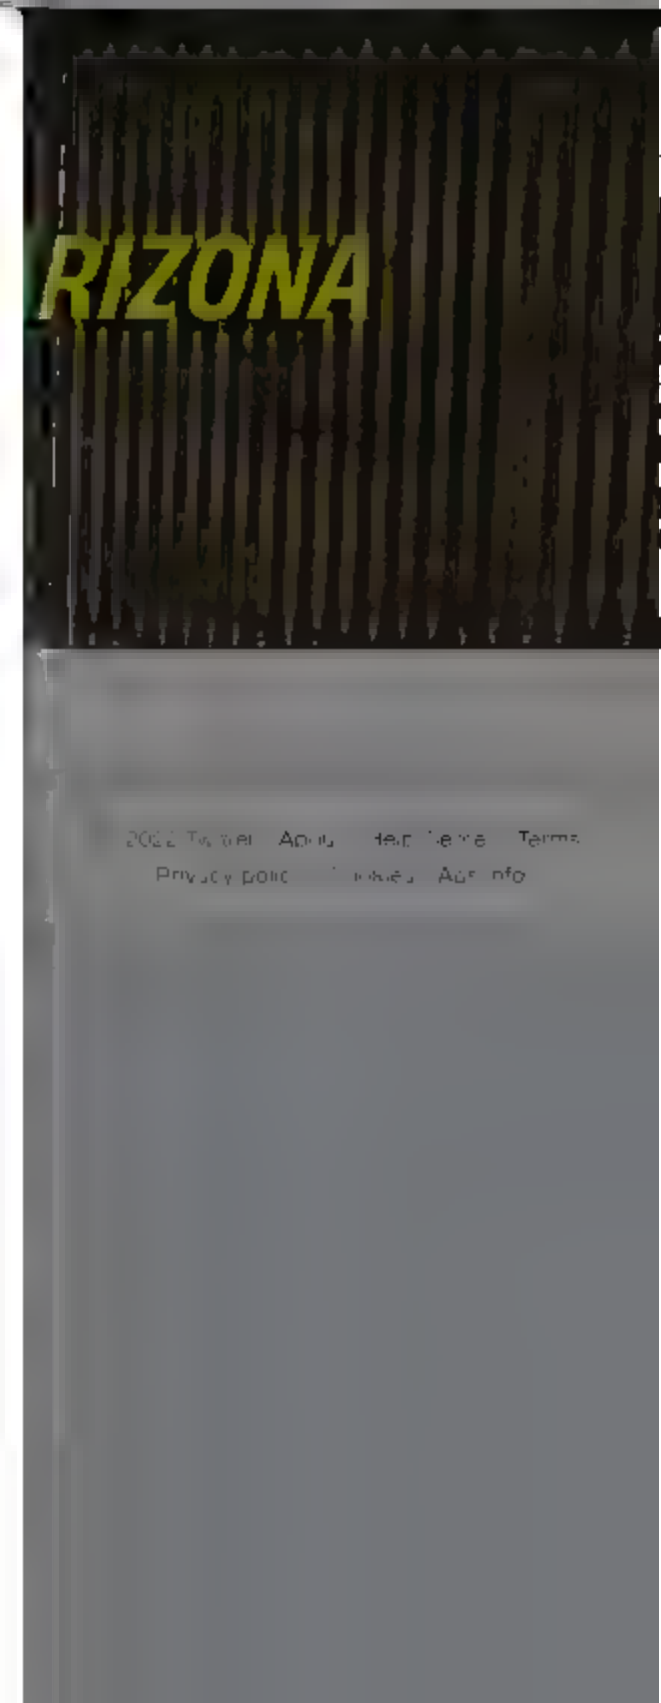
IN ARIZONA, MASTERS RAISES OVER $1.1 MILLION, AGAIN

TUCSON, AZ— In the first three months of 2022, U.S. Senate candidate Blake Masters raised a whopping $1.13 million in individual contributions.

It's a pattern, folks. For the third quarter in a row, Masters has raised over $1 million – something his opponents have never been able to do. Masters has raised over $3.5 million since entering the race last summer. This fundraising success reflects Masters' position as the Republican frontrunner in recent polling conducted by President Trump's pollster, Tony Fabrizio.

In past quarters, Masters has trounced his opposition in fundraising. His major opponents in the Republican primary, Attorney General Mark Brnovich and solar panel executive Jim Lamon, have yet to release their Q1 numbers. As a self-funder, Lamon will write himself a check and call it "fundraising." Brnovich, who has been lackluster in prior quarters, is again expected to fall short of $1 million, said



"The money will help us spread the word, but what it represents is even more important," Masters said. "We're building momentum, more media, bigger events, and honest, powerful messaging. We need to put forward the right candidate to beat Mark Kelly in November. Part of that is having a Republican challenger who excites people and who can actually raise money."

The Arizona Republican primary will be held on August 2, 2022.

She's shockingly lenient on child predators. She thinks partial birth abortion is constitutional. And (unlike Ginsburg and Breyer) she refuses to condemn court packing.

Mark Kelly will soon be out of the Senate—and this vote, and the damage it causes, will be his legacy.

Senator Mark Kelly @SenMarkKelly
After meeting with Judge Ketanji Brown Jackson, it's clear that she has achieved incredible success throughout her legal career while demonstrating a commitment to ensuring all Americans have a fair shot at justice

I get that. I don't want to do that. I'd like to stop paying so much into a program I won't be able to use. I want to stop expanding them and starting new ones, which we've been doing for quite some time. SSI payouts are so far below the adjustment for inflation it's laughable.

Lots of people talking about the gender gap eventually overshadowing the racial gap, but another interesting scenario would be the gender gap overshadowing the educational gap. I don't think it's likely to happen, but I guess it's possible Technology will not stop. With 3D printing, this is going to get easier year after year. I'll be a political check on "gun control," but the technological check is inevitable.

I made this "ghost gun" a few months ago. Very legal & very cool. But now, thanks to Biden's new rule change, I would be a felon if I made another one just like it today.

8.5% is the manipulated number made palatable for the media and Wall Street after a week of massaging by bureaucrats.

Gas is up 40%
Fuel is up 70%
Food is up 30%

8.5% is a great number for Biden because the real number is around 18%. Anyone who pays bills knows this.

The NY subway shooter went on YouTube rants against white people and was a black supremacist... so that'll be the last we hear about it! He was known to the FBI, but FBI was too busy kidnapping the Michigan governor.

The NYC subway shooter had 12 prior arrests, was known to the FBI (on their terror watch list until 2019), and was posting on social media about killing people, but the real problem that we should obviously be focused on is ghost guns.

Mark Brnovich's Senate campaign is flatlining — he spent $974k to raise $735k in Q1. That's right, he lost $239k. This is the 8th year Attorney General! Quite possibly the worst fundraiser of all time.

Race by President Donald J. Trump

Attorney General Brnovich of Arizona was given massive information on the fraud and so-called "irregularities" that took place in the 2020 Presidential Election. Many people said that he would do nothing about it because that just seems to be the way he is. I felt differently because the numbers and sheer amount of crime committed is so compelling, irrefutable, and determinative the election result would have been entirely different.

Well, he did a report, and he recites some of the many horrible things that happened in that very dark period of American history but, rather than go after the people that committed these election crimes, it looks like he is just going to "kick the can down the road" and stay in that middle path of non-controversy. He wants to be politically correct. Because of the amount of time that it took him to do the report, which was endless, his poll numbers

BLAKE MASTERS

FOR U.S. SENATE

For Immediate release
Tuesday, April 19, 2022

CONTACT: press@blakemasters.com

IN ARIZONA, MASTERS OUTRAISES OPPONENTS IN THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

TUCSON, AZ— U.S. Senate candidate Blake Masters raised $1.16 million in individual contributions during the first quarter of the year. Senate hopeful and 8th year Attorney General Mark Brnovich raised just $735k while spending $974k in Q1, losing $239k in the quarter. And self-funder Jim Lamon raised only $275k from people not named Jim Lamon. This is the third quarter in a row where Masters has raised over $1 million — something his opponents have never been able to do.

"Honestly, it's getting embarrassing for the other candidates," Masters campaign manager Amalia Halikias told a small group of supporters. "We have an Attorney General who is unable to even cover what he's spending. We've got a self-funder setting his money on fire. Blake's opponents are letting consultants take them for a ride. Mark Kelly is going to have well over $100 million in his war chest by November. Republicans need to win this seat back — fortunately, the smartest, strongest candidate has proven he can seriously fundraise."

The Arizona Republican primary will be held on August 2, 2022.

Taxpayers shouldn't bail out people who took on student loan debt. But the system is predatory, we should absolutely stick it to the colleges and make them pay

Yeah. To help lower tuition we'll get rid of the diversity czars and left-wing administrators. And the nonprofits of course are often more predatory than the for-profits. But stick with me man, we'll make a Republican of you yet

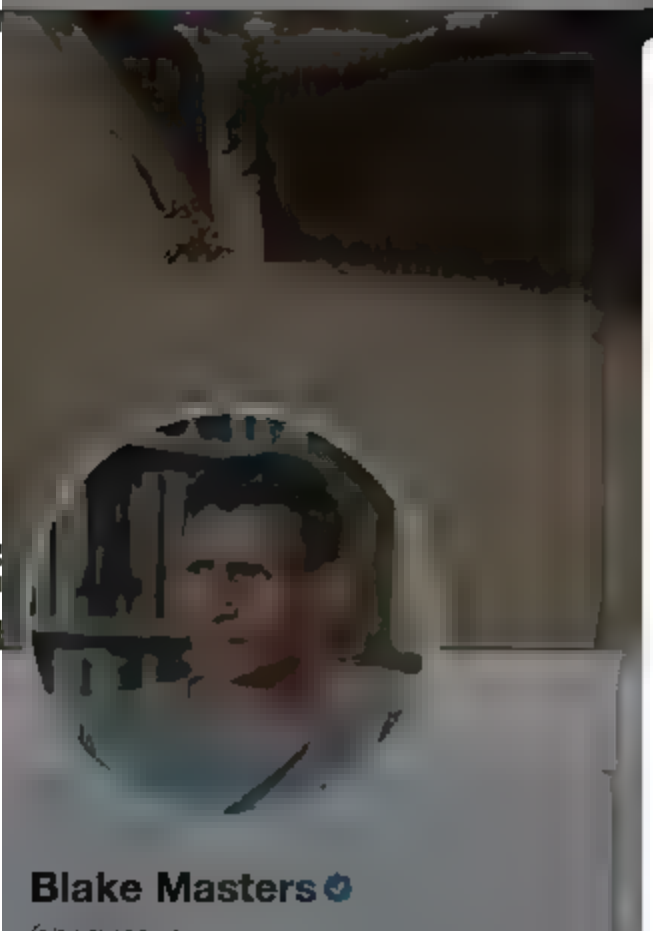
Obama's view boils down to: we need even more censorship to "protect our democracy." It's almost not even interesting enough to be dystopian

Barack Obama ✓ @BarackObama



I was at @Stanford with the @ObamaFoundation to talk about the rise of disinformation around the world and the threat it poses to democracy. We all have a role to play here, so let's get to work.

BLAKE MASTERS

FOR U.S. SENATE

SENATOR JOSH HAWLEY
ENDORSES BLAKE MASTERS FOR U.S. SENATE

TUCSON, AZ Senator Josh Hawley (R-MO) has endorsed Blake Masters in the Arizona 2022 U.S. Senate race. Hawley unseated Democrat Claire McCaskill in 2018 and has distinguished himself as a vocal leader in the Senate.

Senator Hawley put out the following statement:

"Blake Masters is serious about putting America First. He understands the threats our country faces from the Chinese Communist Party to the corrupt Big Tech monopolies to the political elite determined to take apart our way of life. We need new leaders who will fight for this country. That's why I endorse Blake Masters, and I look forward to working alongside him in the Senate."

Blake Masters responded:

"It's an honor to be endorsed by one of the most conservative and fearless Republican Senators. Josh Hawley has been leading the fight against Big Tech, against unqualified federal judges, and against the psychopaths who are driving our country into the ground. With both of us in the Senate, it's going to be a different Republican Party."

The Arizona Republican primary will be held on August 2, 2022.

Whether or not Twitter sells itself to Elon Musk,

we must still legislate an Internet Bill of Rights.

It is illegal & unconstitutional for social media companies to work w/ the White House to silence political opposition.

LOL, what do you guys think? Is Brnovich strong on election integrity, like he claims to be?

@brnoforaz Mark Brnovich
AZ election integrity has been MY fight for years. I have the record. they don't and never will.

Brnovich has done more to advance election integrity than literally any living Republican. That's not sarcasm

Once again, pay attention to who is willing to debate and who isn't. Good to see @GeneralMcGuire and @_JustinOlson again. Jim Lamon and Mark Brnovich, nowhere to be seen.

AZ will definitely be one of the more interesting races. We have been number crunching it for some time. It could be very interesting indeed.

The perfect tweet from AOC, it has everything:
> tired
> hate crimes
> accusing dudes of having ego problems > girlbossy "you only do things to feel special" accidental self-analysis > angry the other side has any billionaires

> Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez ✓ @AOC
> Tired of having to collectively stress about what explosion of hate crimes is happening bc some billionaire with an ego problem unilaterally controls a massive communication platform and skews it because Tucker Carlson or Peter Thiel took him to dinner and made him feel special

FOR U.S. SENATE

For Immediate release
Tuesday, April 19, 2022

CONTACT: press@blakemasters.com

TUCSON, AZ— U.S. Senate candidate Blake Masters raised $1.16 million in individual contributions during the first quarter of the year. Senate hopeful and 8th year Attorney General Mark Brnovich raised just $735k while spending $974k in Q1, losing $239k in the quarter. And self-funder Jim Lamon raised only $275k from people not named Jim Lamon. This is the third quarter in a row where Masters has raised over $1 million — something his opponents have never been able to do.

"Honestly, it's getting embarrassing for the other candidates," Masters' campaign manager Amalia Halikias told a small group of supporters. "We have an Attorney General who is unable to even cover what he's spending. We've got a self-funder setting his money on fire. Blake's opponents are letting consultants take them for a ride. Mark Kelly is going to have well over $100 million in his war chest by November. Republicans need to win this seat back — fortunately, the smartest, strongest candidate has proven he can seriously fundraise."

The Arizona Republican primary will be held on August 2, 2022.

Mark Brnovich's Senate campaign is flatlining — he spent $974k to raise $735k in Q1. That's right, he lost $239k. This is the 8th year Attorney General! Quite possibly the worst fundraiser of all time.

Always fun to meet one of the people you've met on twitter in real life! Great to hear from @bgmasters and some of the Young Republican candidates in AZ.

Shout out to @azaustinsmith and @ArizonaYRs for a fantastic and very based panel discussion.

IN ARIZONA, MASTERS OUTRAISES OPPONENTS IN THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

TUCSON, AZ— U S Senate candidate Blake Masters raised $1 16 mil on n individua contr butions during the f rst quarter of the year Senate hopeful and 8th year Attorney General Mark Brnovich ra sed just $735k while spending $974k in Q1 losing $239k in the quarter And self-funder Jim Lamon raised only $275k from people not named J m Lamon This is the third quarter in a row where Masters has ra sed over $1 million something his opponents have never been able to do.

"Honestly t s getting embarrassing for the other candidates," Masters campaign manager Amalia Halikias told a sma group of supporters. "We have an Attorney General who is unable to even cover what he's spending We've got a self-funder setting his money on fire Blake's opponents are lett ng consultants take them for a ride Mark Kelly is going to have we over $100 million in his war chest by November Republ cans need to w n this seat back — fortunately, the smartest, strongest candidate has proven he can ser ously fundraise "

The Ar zona Republ can primary will be held on August 2. 2022

BLAKE MASTERS

FOR U.S. SENATE

For Immediate release
Tuesday, April 19, 2022

CONTACT: press@blakemasters.com

TUCSON, AZ— U.S. Senate candidate Blake Masters raised $1.16 million in individual contributions during the first quarter of the year. Senate hopeful and 8th year Attorney General Mark Brnovich raised just $735k while spending $974k in Q1, losing $239k in the quarter. And self-funder Jim Lamon raised only $275k from people not named Jim Lamon. This is the third quarter in a row where Masters has raised over $1 million — something his opponents have never been able to do.

"Honestly, it's getting embarrassing for the other candidates," Masters campaign manager Amalia Halikias told a small group of supporters. "We have an Attorney General who is unable to even cover what he's spending. We've got a self-funder setting his money on fire. Blake's opponents are letting consultants take them for a ride. Mark Kelly is going to have over $100 million in his war chest by November. Republicans need to win this seat back — fortunately, the smartest, strongest candidate has proven he can seriously fundraise."

The Arizona Republican primary will be held on August 2, 2022.

Obama's view boils down to: we need even more censorship to "protect our democracy." It's almost not even interesting enough to be dystopian

Barack Obama ✓ @BarackObama

I was at @Stanford with the @ObamaFoundation to talk about the rise of disinformation around the world and the threat it poses to democracy. We all have a role to play here, so let's get to work.

Obama's view boils down to: we need even more censorship to "protect our democracy." It's almost not even interesting enough to be dystopian

Barack Obama @BarackObama

I was at @Stanford with the @ObamaFoundation to talk about the rise of disinformation around the world and the threat it poses to democracy. We all have a role to play here, so let's get to work.

Once again, pay attention to who is willing to debate and who isn't. Good to see @GeneralMcGuire and @_JustinOlson again. Jim Lamon and Mark Brnovich, nowhere to be seen.

who could have foreseen that saying an entire class of people (all white people) are inherently and irredeemably racist would have consequences like this? impossible to have seen this coming

> Two days before the shooting, he posted another video where he said black people were forced into violence by racism.
> 'This is what white bs and white mers' expect you to be... when you blow one of their fg brains out – this is what you asked for. This is how you wanted me to be, obviously,' he said.

The NYT has become a slander machine used by radicals to punish anyone who defies their illiberal political agenda. But their motivations have become so transparent that they've lost the power to destroy anything other than their own brand.

The New York Times

Elon Musk grew up in elite white communities in South Africa, detached from apartheid's atrocities and surrounded by anti-Black propaganda.

He sees his takeover of Twitter as a free speech win but in his youth did not suffer the effects of misinformation.

Elon Musk grew up in a South Africa that saw the dangers of unchecked speech: Apartheid govt propaganda fueled violence against Black people. Musk didn't experience that. He grew up in a bubble of white privilege. @lynseychutel & I explored his early life

I knew Biden-Harris would be bad, you knew Biden-Harris would be bad. But it's still shocking how bad they've made things, and how quickly. The economy, the open border — the Democrats have delivered nothing but failure and chaos.

Finish the wall, law and order, avoid senseless wars, pro-family economics, pro-life. President Trump launched America First in 2016, it won this week in Ohio, and it'll win in Arizona too.

Let's be clear about this: you didn't ask for comment. Not really. You wrote to the wrong email address for my campaign manager despite knowing her correct email (so we wouldn't see it in time), and then published your hit piece 90 minutes later. You weasel.

Hey @DillonReedRose you are a hack. This piece wildly misrepresents my views, which was your goal. Time for a thread about journalistic ethics & the way reporters shamelessly attack anyone to the right of AOC.

In Griswold, the justices wholesale "made up a constitutional right" to achieve a political outcome. I am opposed to judges making law. It's the job of the legislative branch to create laws, not the courts. This is separation of powers 101

Latest @bgmasters statement is a banger. The only way to deal with a corrupt & incompetent media that will libel anyone who gets in in their way: call them out, every time.

Questions? You can DM, or reach us at an email address that actually exists: amalia@blakemasters.com

BLAKE MASTERS' STATEMENT ON THE SORRY STATE OF JOURNALISTIC ETHICS

TUCSON, AZ— Yesterday, disreputable liberal "journalist" Dillon Rosenblatt published a ridiculous hit piece on U.S. Senate candidate Blake Masters, falsely implying that Masters opposes legal contraception. Rosenblatt had contacted a fake campaign email address just 90 minutes before publishing his disgusting hit piece, so that he could pretend to have asked for comment.

Blake Masters punched back. In a fiery tweet storm the following morning, Masters excoriated Rosenblatt for his lack of journalistic ethics and his garbled understanding of our legal system.

"This piece wildly misrepresents my views, which was (Rosenblatt's) goal. Time for a thread about journalistic ethics & the way reporters shamelessly attack anyone to the right of AOC." Masters' thread begins. "Had you gone about this ethically – had you written to our real email address more than an hour before publishing – I would have said (and let's see if you update your story and quote me): I am pro-life. And of course I don't think contraceptives should be outlawed."

Masters goes on to dismantle Rosenblatt's incoherent legal analysis of the decision in Griswold v. Connecticut, and concludes, "But hey, on the bright side: the media has realized that unlimited abortion on demand is a political loser for the Dems. So they've started doing what they do best: throwing ethics out the window, baselessly smearing Republicans, and calling it 'fact checking.'"

Blake Masters is running to represent Arizona in the U.S. Senate. Throughout the campaign and after he wins, he's going to keep on dismantling smarmy journalists' lies.

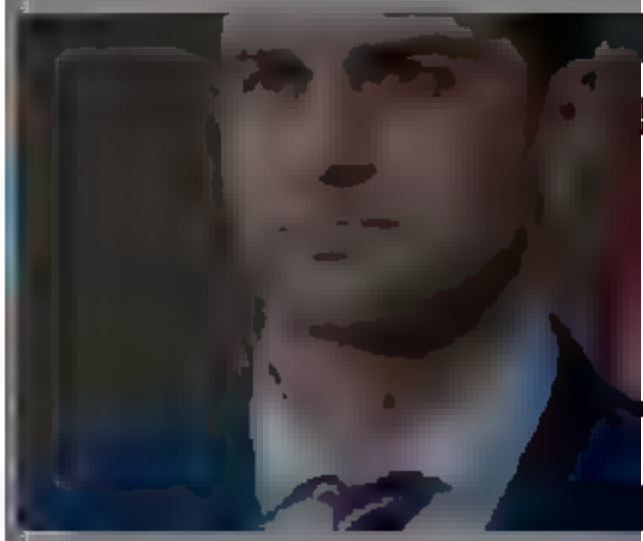
The media can write as many hit pieces on @bgmasters as they want.



In a few months, Blake will be across from Mark Kelly on a debate stage, asking him to defend his record, and the only response Kelly will have is,

"I was an astronaut."

This reconciliation bill isn't about a budget.

It's about mass amnesty for illegal immigrants and unlimited cheap labor for big corporations.

I offer an alternative. Share plans for skills-based training in data, cloud computing, and emergent scripting languages like Rust and Solidity for Americans, specifically post K-12 and those caught in the quick sand of a backwards growing industry. The country needs vision here

The "protestors" who are harassing and threatening Supreme Court Justices at their homes are breaking the law.

Every one of them should be arrested.

I know it's weird if Biden doesn't speak in public. But somehow it's a lot worse when he does. Dr. First Lady Elder Abuse EdD should stop this

Greg Price @greg_price11

Biden: "The number one threat is the strength, and that strength that we've built is inflation."

In Griswold, the justices wholesale made up a constitutional right to achieve a political outcome. I am opposed to judges making law. It's the job of the legislative branch to create laws, not the courts. This is separation of powers 101.

Either this "reporter" does not understand how our legal system works (and so cannot separate the outcome of a case from the legal reasoning behind a decision) or he's a fake news journalist with an axe to grind. My money's on both, actually!

But hey, on the bright side: the media has realized that unlimited abortion on demand is a political loser for the Dems. So they've started doing what they do best: throwing ethics out the window, baselessly smearing Republicans, and calling it "fact checking"

They did this to President Trump, they did it to Justice Kavanaugh, they will do it to random cake bakers, they did it to Tucker last week, they're doing it to me as a candidate, and you're up next. This is why no one trusts the media anymore.

In Griswold, the justices wholesale made up a constitutional right to achieve a political outcome. I am opposed to judges making law. It's the job of the legislative branch to create laws, not the courts. This is separation of powers 101.

Either this "reporter" does not understand how our legal system works (and so cannot separate the outcome of a case from the legal reasoning behind a decision) or he's a fake news journalist with an axe to grind. My money's on both, actually!

But hey, on the bright side: the media has realized that unlimited abortion on demand is a political loser for the Dems. So they've started doing what they do best: throwing ethics out the window, baselessly smearing Republicans, and calling it "fact checking"

The @ArizonaMirror said they'd correct the article if I waived claims. Nope!

Then they got nervous, now they say they'll correct it soon, without a waiver.

But the only way I'm waiving claims against @ArizonaMirror is if they fire @DillonReedRose by this time tomorrow.

Probably the most fair piece to date

✅ Masters is pro life

✅ Masters does not support contraception bans

✅ Masters will fight to make it easier for parents to start families and have as many kids as they want

✅ When journos go after him, Masters absolutely wrecks them

> Tim Steller ✓ @senyorreporter
> Column: No, the Senate candidate from Tucson, @bgmasters, doesn't want to ban condoms. But his positions on key reproductive rights cases, if enacted, could endanger some forms of contraception while supporting his views on fertility and the family.

Also wow I forgot @bgmasters said this, very cool:

"The left (and modernity itself) really does promote an anti-family culture, where young adults are taught to hesitate to start families because they see the birth of a child as the death of their perpetual adolescence"

BLAKE MASTERS

FOR U.S. SENATE

For immediate release
Friday, April 1, 2022

CONTACT press@blakemasters.com

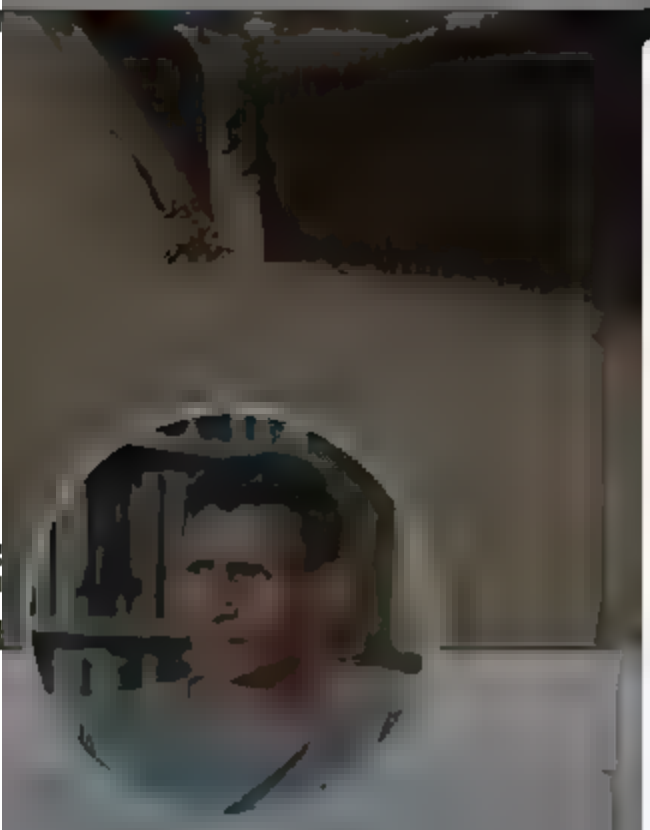
IN ARIZONA, MASTERS RAISES OVER $1.1 MILLION, AGAIN

TUCSON, AZ— In the first three months of 2022, U.S. Senate candidate Blake Masters raised a whopping $1.13 million in individual contributions.

It's a pattern, folks. For the third quarter in a row, Masters has raised over $1 million – something his opponents have never been able to do. Masters has raised over $3.5 million since entering the race last summer. This fundraising success reflects Masters' position as the Republican frontrunner in recent polling conducted by President Trump's pollster, Tony Fabrizio.

In past quarters, Masters has trounced his opposition in fundraising. His major opponents in the Republican primary, Attorney General Mark Brnovich and solar panel executive Jim Lamon, have yet to release their Q1 numbers. As a self-funder, Lamon will write himself a check and call it "fundraising." Brnovich, who has been lackluster in prior quarters, is again expected to fall short of $1 million, said

"The money will help us spread the word, but what it represents is even more important," Masters said. "We're building momentum, more media, bigger events, and honest, powerful messaging. We need to put forward the right candidate to beat Mark Kelly in November. Part of that is having a Republican challenger who excites people and who can actually raise money."



The Arizona Republican primary will be held on August 2, 2022.

I want a floor vote on #HB2289 in the Arizona State Senate. "We don't have the votes" is not an excuse, we have a Republican majority. Let the people see which Republican legislators refuse to support election integrity.

It's just absurd to call any concern about CRT some kind of dog whistle. Critical theory is the philosophical underpinning of the Democratic Party. Just ask the smug politicos who chortle anytime someone mentions this stuff: which part of CRT do you disagree with exactly?

When someone tells you they want our children to look at our society and analyze it through the lens of race or gender, that is critical theory. This is often masked as vague calls for more "conversations"

Great interview, Garret. Blake spoke with sincerity & did not go on the attack. If Jim doesn't stop running that ad we can be sure of 2 things, he won't listen to his potential constituents & he's okay with going low & stretching the truth, as long as it benefits him.

In the past I voted Democrat, because they were (mostly) the kindness party.

But they have become the party of division & hate, so I can no longer support them and will vote Republican.

Now, watch their dirty tricks campaign against me unfold …

This is so disappointing. I dared to criticize @jim_lamon's negative ads. Instead of simply explaining his position he called me (a 63 yr old woman & GOP PC) a "brat," told me I don't know my state & bragged about all the political money he's thrown around. Very "McCain" of him

> Jim Lamon @jim_lamon
> Betsy Brat - you obviously don't Arizona. I donated $M to conservative candidates in 2020 & beyond. I helped pay for the audit. I founded the largest private voter registration project in America in AZ (20,000 new R voters). I will beat Kelly. Masters has done Zero. twitter.com/sgtbetsysmith/

Some failures of weak Democrat leadership are immediate and obvious, like skyrocketing gas and crime. Others — like enabling the monster that is the Chinese Communist Party — are less obvious but no less catastrophic.

President Trump told people to be peaceful, then was accused of inciting political violence.

Obama won the Nobel peace prize and now goes around calling for a summer of violence, round 2 of the “organized action” that set countless cities on fire in 2020.

> Barack Obama @BarackObama
> In the aftermath of his murder, a new generation of activists rose up to channel their anguish into organized action, launching a movement to raise awareness of systemic racism and the need for criminal justice and police reform.

We weren't particularly close, but I'll never forget Kevin's quick smile. Or his prowess in the weight room. The very first time I benched 35# plates, it was because Kevin (who could bench a whole lot more, even in HS) was there shouting at me with encouragement.

A California appeals court has ruled that bees are "fish" for purposes of the state's endangered species act. While "commonly understood" that a fish "lives in aquatic environments," "terrestrial invertebrate[s]," including bumble bees, qualify legally. courts.ca.gov/opinions/docum .

We certainly agree section 45 is ambiguous as to whether the Legislature intended for the definition of fish to apply to purely aquatic species. A fish, as the term is commonly understood in everyday parlance, of course, lives in aquatic environments. As the Department and the Commission note, however, the technical definition in section 45 includes mollusks, invertebrates, amphibians, and crustaceans, all of which encompass terrestrial and aquatic species.[11] Moreover, by virtue of the express language in section 2067, the Trinity bristle snail -- a terrestrial mollusk and invertebrate -- is a threatened species under the Act and could have qualified as such only within the definition of fish under section 45. In the end, we do our best to determine the Legislature's intent when it enacted the Act, while construing the Act liberally, as we must. (In re Pedro T. (1994) 8 Cal.4th 1041, 1048 ["[i]t is axiomatic that in assessing the import of a statute, we must concern ourselves with the Legislature's purpose at the time of the enactment"]; San Bernadino Valley Audubon Society v. City of Moreno Valley, supra, 44 Cal.App.4th at p. 601 ["[l]aws providing for the conservation of natural resources are of great remedial and public importance and thus should be construed liberally"]; California Forestry Assn., supra, 156 Cal.App.4th at pp. 1544-1545 [same].)

We conclude a liberal interpretation of the Act,[12] supported by the legislative history and the express language in section 2067 that a terrestrial mollusk and invertebrate is a threatened species (express language we cannot ignore), is that fish

11 For example, the common pill bug is a terrestrial crustacean, the Siskiyou Mountains salamander is a terrestrial amphibian, and the Trinity bristle snail is a terrestrial gastropod that is both a mollusk and an invertebrate.

12 Undoubtedly, the liberal construction of section 45 is that it applies to all invertebrates -- i.e., that the term is not limited to aquatic invertebrates.

defined in section 45, as a term of art, is not limited solely to aquatic species. Accordingly, a terrestrial invertebrate, like each of the four bumble bee species, may be listed as an endangered or threatened species under the Act.

Geoff Bowser @geoffreybowser · 3h
So that actual reasoning

1 The definition includes both mollusks and invertebrates

2 The drafters included a purely terrestrial mollusk on the initial endangered list

3 Thus, definition is not restricted to aquatic lifeforms.

4 Thus terrestrial invertebrates are fish

Under Democrat rule, America is on track to be a third-world country by the time my boys are in high school. I won't stand for it.

This is what happens when you rise fast without a strong philosophical foundation. I encourage you to get out more, balance your understanding, and practice a politic of wisdom rather than inflammation. Wishing you the best.

BREAKING: President Trump endorses Blake Masters in Arizona Senate GOP race. @bgmasters

Endorsement of Blake Masters

Blake Masters is one of the most successful businessmen and investors in the Country, having led a multibillion-dollar firm that invests in new technology and many other emerging companies. In addition, he runs a nonprofit foundation that promotes science and innovation. In other words, he is a great modern-day thinker. A graduate of Stanford University and Stanford University Law School, a fantastic student, Blake is also the author of the New York Times bestseller, "Zero to One."

Despite having such an amazing business career and wonderful family, Blake has decided that he wants to make a difference for the people of our Country, and is therefore running for the United States Senate from the Great State of Arizona.

Blake is Strong on Border Security, in particular the disastrous Southern Border where people are pouring into the U.S. by the millions, and destroying our Country. Just two Congratulations to Blake Masters on receiving the greatest endorsement in the history of politics: President Donald J. Trump!

Mark Kelly's senate career is going to be short-lived.

Welcome to the Trump-Endorsed club, @bgmasters. Let's give them a November to Remember.

Proud to join my father in endorsing my friend Blake Masters for US Senate in Arizona!

The Senate GOP is desperately in need of some generational change and between @bgmasters, @JDVance1 & a few others, the MAGA movement has an opportunity to reshape our party for the better!!!

Many Republicans don't like listening to voters. That's why they tried to overturn the will of Arizona voters in January 2021 and get upset when they are booed off stage

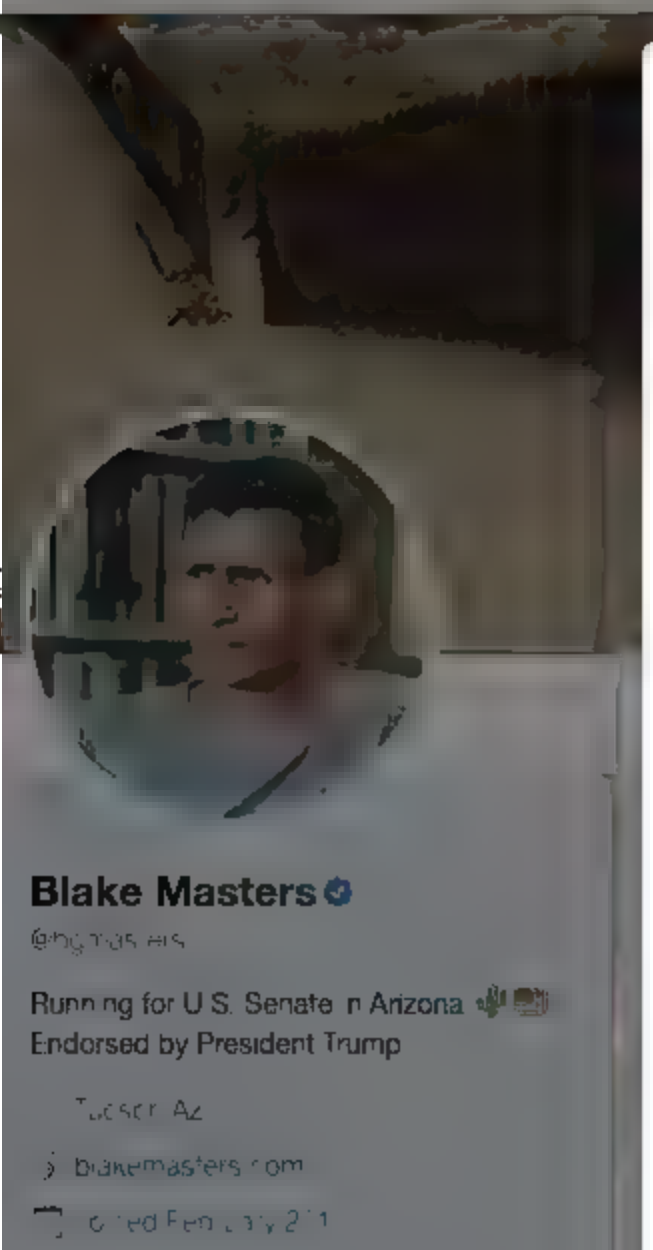
The Sandlot is a great American myth.



Not because it wasn't true, but because it was. Otherworldly, larger than life, impossible to attain in today's world, yet still true. Summers like that existed, they happened.

So disappointing to watch a supposed Republican desperately echo the dishonest smears of the leftwing media to try to tear down @bgmasters.

Borrowing a page from the corrupt Democrat playbook to lie about a fellow Republican won't save your campaign, @jim_lamon...Shameful!

The vast & overwhelming majority of public shootings are carried out by street gangs and armed career criminals. Violent crime is up drastically nationwide because of a far-left war against cops, bail & jail. (Eg Soros Prosecutors). The solution? Mass incarceration of criminals.

I made this "ghost gun" a few months ago. Very legal & very cool. But now, thanks to Biden's new rule change, I would be a felon if I made another one just like it today.

The reason why you are seeing the left wing media go on the warpath against Blake Masters is because they are terrified of him winning GOP primary. I have not seen the left go after either Bronvich or Lamon. They know Kelly is in trouble for the general election against Masters.

Statement regarding the Arizona Mirror

States Newsroom is committed to embodying the values of diversity, equity, inclusion and justice, and we ask readers to hold us accountable. Earlier today, we became aware of offensive tweets containing hateful slurs from 2011 and 2012 made by a recently hired reporter. After authenticating the tweets, the reporter was immediately terminated.

States Newsroom will thoroughly review this journalist's conduct while employed at the Arizona Mirror. We are

The McDonalds in Marana AZ got rid of human cashiers — your only option is the self-serve kiosk. Giant step backwards for our society. Takes like 20minutes to order $57 of food (a quarter pounder, burger not meal, is $6.50 in Joe Biden's economy!). Bring back the humans

Odd position. Is the operating principle that businesses should maximize employment instead of profitability? If elected, would you work to pass laws requiring McDonalds to "bring back the humans?" Such a law would be wildly liberal, no?
